

Partner Career Program

Ensuring that Employee Relocations Succeed

“Unless my partner’s career needs are met, I can’t move!”

Have you heard this response from employees when discussing the possibility of transfer?

Benefits of partner career counseling

Career Directions’ Partner Career Program can help to:

- Enable your employee to concentrate fully on the new job responsibilities, not the partner’s career transition.
- Enlist the partner’s active support for the transfer.
- Enhance the couple’s perception of the relocation opportunity.
- Provide personal support and confidence to the partner in adapting to the new community.

Pre-relocation consultation

Career Directions can work with couples before the relocation decision, providing the partner with answers to such critical concerns as:

- “Are my skills marketable in this geographic location?”
- “Will I be able to find a comparable position?”
- “Can I maintain my current salary?”
- “Will I need to commute?”

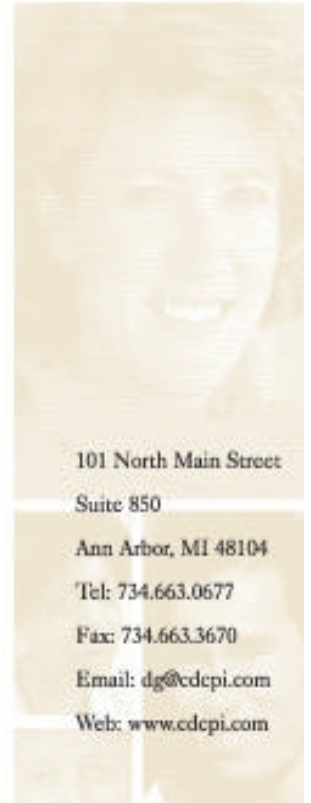

Our services

Career Directions can provide any of the following services to assist in the partner’s successful relocation and career transition:

- Career assessment and testing, job market research, and counseling on career direction.
- Resumé and cover letter preparation.
- Interview training with videotaped practice sessions and salary negotiation training.
- Use of Career Directions’ Contact Network System, which provides information on employers, job openings and key contact people.
- Referrals to community resources such as childcare, elder care and schools.
- Supportive personal counseling during the transition.

“Uprooting my family was a highly stressful experience, but with Career Directions’ help, my spouse’s job search was worry-free.”
